ROLE MODELS NOT MALE MODELS

MEET OUR ROLE MODELS

SHOP THE STORY

Top: Leland Melvin. Center: Jason Flom, Kurt & John Schwartz. Bottom: Sean Brock, Ryan Duffy.

Bonobos is founded on a simple philosophy: fit for every man. This means more than better-fitting pants. It means being freed from a “one-size-fits-all” world.

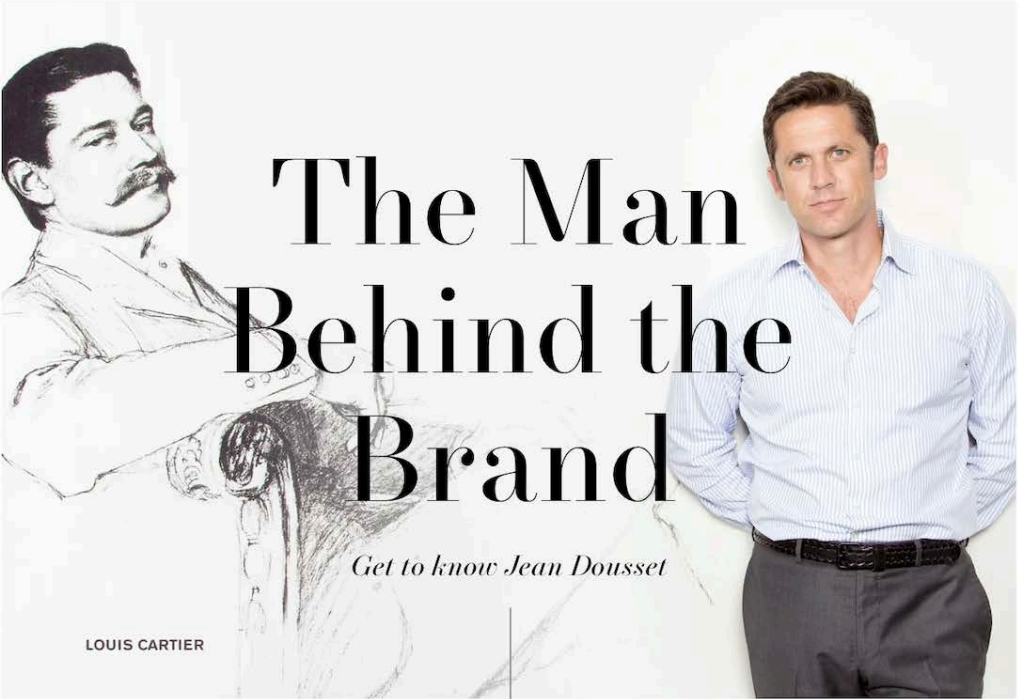

Moving forward, we’re committed to celebrating a spectrum of masculinity across age, outlook, identity, race, and body type. We’ll champion the talent, impact, passion, and drive of individuals making remarkable contributions to society. These are our role models.

We hope their stories will inspire you to forge your own path and find your unique fit. Not just in the way you dress, but in the way you live.

SUSTAINABLE IMPACTS BEING MADE AT KENRA PROFESSIONAL

BY: KENRA PROFESSIONAL

Let's be real-- the beauty industry is a wonderful one, but we'd be remiss not to acknowledge that it does contribute to waste, and we want to do our part to lighten the load. Consumers go through countless bottles and jars to find their new go-to hair and skincare regimens.

The success of Kenra's Professional's business is linked to that of our planet's—and our customers'—well-being. Kenra Professional is dedicated to managing the environmental impact we create. Driving sustainability initiatives is integral to our brand's values, and we want to do what we can do in order to strengthen both the environment and our community.

Post-Consumer Resin, or Recycled Content (PCR)

Recycled material can come from one of two sources: either post-industrial or post-consumer.

Post-consumer recycled material (or resin) is what we refer to when it comes to everything we toss into the recycling bin—this includes items such as empty plastic bottles or aluminum cans. These materials are then collected by recycling programs on a local level and are then shipped to other recycling facilities. Here, they are sorted into bales based on their material. These bales will then be purchased and melted or they can also be ground into small pellets and shaped into new tubs, bottles or cans. Brands and companies like us can then purchase the newly repurposed materials and reuse the recycled goods in our products and packaging to reduce carbon emissions and excess waste.

Kenra Color has updated its color tubes and packaging in Studio Stylist Express to be made of 100% recycled aluminum tubes and recycled plastic caps as well as 93% recycled cardboard boxes. Simply Blonde packaging is now also made using up to 100% recycled materials.

Recyclable Packaging

Sometimes it's confusing as to what recyclable packaging even is . For instance, some plastic items are too small to be recycled. Many travel sizes and minis are not large enough to be recycled. There are also a lot of items many of us think are recyclable that are indeed not, including bubble wrap, ice pack packaging from meal prep kits, and straws or other plastic utensils. "Packaging is recyclable if it can be collected, sorted, reprocessed, and ultimately reused in manufacturing or making another item," says Kelly Cramer for sustainablepackaging.org.
